#	RESPONSES	DATE
1	At least $25/hr	12/19/2017 12:24 AM
2	$20-30/hr depending on experience and skill level.	12/16/2017 4:19 PM
3	With experience somewhere from $20-30 an hr	12/15/2017 2:08 PM
4	Depending on experience 20-28$ an hour	12/15/2017 1:16 PM
5	Depending on experience. Hard to say. I'm 5 years in, jack of all trades. Hard worker. Carry a lot of other lazy coworkers / believe I should earn 23-25/hr now. With yearly raises	12/11/2017 8:05 PM
6	$20 to $30/hour	12/11/2017 5:16 PM
7	Minimum $30/hr and up based on experience and responsibilities (head tech, clinic manger, etc.)	12/11/2017 1:19 PM
8	$23-28/ hour	12/11/2017 6:38 AM
9	Depends on starting versus experience - starting $20, up to $30+	12/10/2017 10:43 PM
10	$23-25/hr	12/10/2017 9:17 PM
11	$18 ++	12/10/2017 5:37 PM
12	Hard question as we need to charge more or do more business to give everyone the wage they really deserve. I would like to see this question more about what can techs do to increase revenues and earn more higher wages.	12/10/2017 4:25 PM
13	$25	12/10/2017 4:23 PM
14	It really depends on what is expected of you and how busy of a Clinic you work in. I think starting wage for new grads should be between 17-19 dollars/hr, experienced techs should make more	12/10/2017 11:05 AM
15	17$/hr min	12/10/2017 9:09 AM
16	$20-30 an hour based on experience and initiative.	12/9/2017 8:15 PM
17	30/hour	12/9/2017 8:02 PM
18	20-25 starting and for experienced techs 30-40 an hour depending on what you have your hands on but we are definately underpaid still	12/9/2017 4:30 PM
19	Starting $20, experienced $30	12/9/2017 1:26 PM
20	New grad: $22; Seasoned VT w good attitude: $26-30/hr; VTS $32-36/hr	12/9/2017 8:51 AM
21	$25-30 / hr	12/9/2017 4:03 AM
22	25-30$	12/9/2017 1:43 AM
23	30/hr	12/8/2017 9:03 PM
24	$25	12/8/2017 7:50 PM
25	$30-$40 hourly	12/8/2017 11:09 AM
26	depends on years of experience. A new grad can't expect same wage as a seasoned veteran.	12/8/2017 6:04 AM
27	$30.00	12/7/2017 9:50 PM
28	$20-30/hr	12/7/2017 8:01 PM
29	$30-$35/ year	12/7/2017 7:58 PM
30	$24-32/hr	12/7/2017 12:22 PM
31	$20-23 our of school and then increases to $25-30 depending on responsibility and seniority	12/7/2017 11:59 AM

32	$22/hour and up. Cost of living adjustments annually would be fantastic!	12/7/2017 11:55 AM
33	$20/hr for new RVTs, $27/hr for experienced RVTs	12/7/2017 10:43 AM
34	~$20	12/7/2017 7:46 AM
35	That totally depends on how much expierence and skill the tech holds. I do not believe all technicians should make the same wage as everyone has different work ethics, skills, length of experience, and dedication to their careers. I believe new grads should start at no less that $21/ hour. As they settle into their careers, gain CE and improve their skills, and provide better care for their patients, their wage should reflect each individuals rank. I do think wage increases need to be given regularly to keep us striving for more. If I was not able to get a wage increase, I would move on from the clinic for sure. There must be something to work towards. Techs will never have a pension, so our wage must be able to sustain us and provide a future. Our senior techs (20+) years of service likely make around $32/ hour. This is a good wage for anyone to make, but I do not believe it to be the limit for senior techs.	12/7/2017 7:43 AM
36	Over $23 for the staff we have to deal with and the high demand.	12/6/2017 11:11 PM
37	$25-30 per hour	12/6/2017 9:55 PM
38	I'd like to see the average tech making 20-25	12/6/2017 8:17 PM
39	a minimum of $25/hr, although I had been offered $27/hr at some clinics when interviewing	12/6/2017 8:00 PM
40	Depending on experience 20-30$/hour	12/6/2017 7:46 PM
41	$50,000-$80,000	12/6/2017 6:34 PM
42	$20-30/hr depending on experience	12/6/2017 6:15 PM
43	20+	12/6/2017 4:57 PM
44	$25-$30/hr	12/6/2017 4:40 PM
45	Starting, just graduated, $22 - $25/hr depending on region. At the 5 year mark, $25 - $27/hr, amd up from there. If vets charged what they're worth, rather than the constant race to the bottom, that would be a giant step forward for the industry, and everyone working in the industry. Yes, it may limit people having pets, but then again, you don't buy a car if you can't afford fuel and insurance.	12/6/2017 4:05 PM
46	$20-30	12/6/2017 3:45 PM
47	Between $20 and $30 an hour	12/6/2017 3:12 PM
48	$25 minimum for 5+ years in the field (18-20 for new grad)	12/6/2017 2:42 PM
49	New grads to start at $20/hour. More experienced up to $30/hr	12/6/2017 2:03 PM
50	$20-30/hr	12/6/2017 1:00 PM
51	$40 an hour	12/6/2017 10:11 AM
52	20- new grad, 25-30 for over 5 years experience in the lower mainland	12/6/2017 8:25 AM
53	RVTs should be making between $25-$35 /hr depending on experience. We are a well trained, hardworking, dedicated group of professionals and should be valued as such.	12/6/2017 8:24 AM
54	16+	12/6/2017 7:39 AM
55	20-30+/hour based on experience	12/6/2017 6:17 AM
56	$20+	12/5/2017 11:29 PM
57	Starting at 20 out of school. steady raises over next few years gaining experience	12/5/2017 11:19 PM
58	For new techs in the lower mainland, at least $22/hr	12/5/2017 11:12 PM
59	$23-$27/hour	12/5/2017 10:34 PM
60	$20-$25 /hr. More for emergency or specialist clinics / hospitals - maybe $25-$30 / hr.	12/5/2017 10:03 PM
61	It depends on experience. Starting at $18 up to $25-30 if in a supervisory roll.	12/5/2017 9:53 PM
62	$20-$30 per hour	12/5/2017 9:49 PM
63	Min 20$ / hour in busy practice and then increments for yrs experience and responsibilities	12/5/2017 9:45 PM

64	Honestly I don't really know. Yes we are well trained and all but these are also small businesses most of us work for. Clients need to be able to afford pet care in order to have a reason for techs to workI feel like I'm paid pretty fairly.	12/5/2017 9:39 PM
65	New grad $17 experience tech 30+/hour	12/5/2017 9:25 PM
66	$17-23/hr depending on experience	12/5/2017 8:05 PM
67	$22-28 general practice, more if specialty/emeg	12/5/2017 5:52 PM
68	20-30$	12/5/2017 5:36 PM
69	30-35 dollars an hour	12/5/2017 5:27 PM
70	$23-40/hr based on experience, contribution and roles within hospital	12/5/2017 4:32 PM
71	30 -40 an hour	12/5/2017 3:21 PM
72	At least $19/hour for starting tech.	12/5/2017 2:54 PM
73	$20 to $30/hour	12/5/2017 12:56 PM
74	$20-$30/hour depending on experience	12/5/2017 12:42 PM
75	That is a very hard question as I am aware of what the business can afford to pay, versus what we all vet clinic staff are worth. Most RVT in general practice are also doing a lot of 'other' duties, and RVT in specialty practices are doing higher care medicine. In a perfect world we would match up with nursing. Starting wage $25hour and up to $40 depending on skill sets etc.	12/5/2017 12:37 PM
76	$18-25/hr, depending on experience level.	12/5/2017 12:34 PM
77	DOE - $20-35/hr	12/5/2017 11:33 AM
78	$20 or more, depending on level of technical requirement and experience	12/5/2017 11:27 AM
79	Depends on experience, skill level and workplace requirements. Start at $20 min	12/5/2017 11:07 AM
80	20/hr	12/5/2017 10:09 AM
81	$25-30	12/5/2017 10:01 AM
82	$20-22/hr	12/5/2017 9:09 AM
83	New Grad at a reg practice $20, New Grad at referral Hosp $22, Established tech for 3+ years at a referral hosp $30	12/5/2017 9:08 AM
84	starting wage at $20/hour	12/5/2017 9:06 AM
85	$25	12/5/2017 8:45 AM
86	25-30	12/5/2017 8:05 AM
87	It should be varied, like a starting wage should be the same as someone that has put a few years in as well as someone who has been a tech for over 20 years. But if have been a tech for over 20 yrs should be making 27+ an hour	12/5/2017 7:48 AM
88	$20+	12/5/2017 7:26 AM
89	18-27$/hr depending on experience	12/5/2017 6:53 AM
90	$20-$25 per hour	12/5/2017 6:44 AM
91	28 dollars/hr	12/5/2017 5:53 AM
92	I would say 18-25 dollars per hour depending on experience	12/5/2017 1:00 AM
93	Around 20 for small animals, atleast 25 for speciality fields.	12/5/2017 12:20 AM
94	I think minimum wage should be $15 in BC, and I think techs should make $25 to start. Then up from there.	12/4/2017 11:29 PM
95	I am satisfied with my wage and vet discounts of 40% on services and inventory at cost plus 10%	12/4/2017 11:19 PM

		5
96	Anything under 20 in in my opinion a slave wage for what we do. How much should reflect what our job requires us to do, how stressful our environment is, how good we are and how experienced we are and where in bc we are working. It is very hard to get techs in the northern rural areas and so those areas need to pay more than average to attract people and keep them in these areas. I know a locum tech who charges out at 35 an hour and she gets it. The fact that some techs are out there working for 16 and they don't demand better irritates me.	12/4/2017 10:40 PM
97	New techs starting at $17 + with reevaluating every 3-6 months, experienced long term techs$25- 30	12/4/2017 10:27 PM
98	23$ STARTING	12/4/2017 10:22 PM
99	$22-$35	12/4/2017 10:16 PM
100	25-30 dollars start wage. for all that we do, it seems like it isnt enought to be making $19 an hour.	12/4/2017 9:56 PM
101	20-25	12/4/2017 9:38 PM
102	$28 to $35/hr	12/4/2017 9:28 PM
103	Min $25/hr	12/4/2017 9:03 PM
104	$30/hr - Living wage is almost $20/hr! How can you support a family on that? Besides we are highly skilled, talented and invaluable to the practice.	12/4/2017 8:56 PM
105	$20-30	12/4/2017 8:56 PM
106	As a single person I struggle to get ahead while making $25/hr. More would be nice.	12/4/2017 8:47 PM
107	Starting wage should be at least $18/hr and annual reviews with appropriate wage increases given regularly.	12/4/2017 8:39 PM
108	would depend on experience, new grads at 20.00/hour, seasoned techs at 25.00/hour	12/4/2017 8:16 PM
109	from 22 - 32, depending on experience/time in field	12/4/2017 8:12 PM
110	$25	12/4/2017 7:54 PM
111	$20-25/hour	12/4/2017 7:50 PM
112	Not familiar with private practice standards	12/4/2017 7:48 PM
113	$20 starting wage, increasing with experience, skill and abilities	12/4/2017 7:46 PM
114	At least $18 an hour,as much as a cleaner!	12/4/2017 7:41 PM
115	$25-$40	12/4/2017 7:38 PM
116	we are professionals and need to be paid a higher wage for what we contribute to the financial health of the clinicwe are lab techs, surgical prep team, work with clients and their petsfront desk as well as kennel staffwe can and have done it allif the cliets don't come in the front door there is nothing happening at allwe are there for the well being of our patients and the well being of the clinic!	12/4/2017 7:27 PM
117	25 to 30$ an hour	12/4/2017 7:23 PM
118	I think it is dependent on skill set and years of experience. Starting wage should be at least 20.00 and goes up from there. I would like to see a tech making 30-35 an hour, maybe more if you hold a specialty.	12/4/2017 7:23 PM
119	$25/hour or more	12/4/2017 7:06 PM
120	20$-25$	12/4/2017 7:04 PM
121	$28	12/4/2017 6:56 PM
122	Depending if specialty or emergency but if GP with busy practice ect. 20-25	12/4/2017 6:17 PM
123	$20 - $25 / hour	12/4/2017 5:48 PM
124	depends on years of experience. at least from 25 to 30	12/4/2017 5:40 PM
125	20-27 dollars an hour	12/4/2017 5:24 PM
126	Minimum of $20 per hour	12/4/2017 5:17 PM
127	A starting wage of $17 I think is appropriate, but the average wage should be at least $22	12/4/2017 5:08 PM

128	At least $27 an hour, starting.	12/4/2017 4:54 PM
129	18 starting. 20+ w experience	12/4/2017 4:42 PM
30	$22/hr	12/4/2017 4:37 PM
31	close to $20 an hour	12/4/2017 4:33 PM
32	$25/HR +++	12/4/2017 4:23 PM
33	$20-30 based on years of experience	12/4/2017 4:20 PM
34	$20 +	12/4/2017 4:07 PM
135	$25-30/hr	12/4/2017 4:01 PM
136	$20/hour minimum, depending on location + cost of living. i.e. in the lower mainland this should be a starting wage for new techs. For the education, stress, and responsibility that we shoulder, it's insulting to be offered only a few dollars more than minimum wage (ie. what AVC/VCA offered when I graduated, less than some vet assistants that I know)	12/4/2017 3:57 PM
137	$22-$25 - depends on location, big cities should be offering higher wages as living espenses are higher	12/4/2017 3:54 PM
138	$25/hr	12/4/2017 3:48 PM
139	$23	12/4/2017 3:32 PM
40	$25	12/4/2017 3:32 PM
141	25	12/4/2017 3:28 PM
142	$60000/ year	12/4/2017 3:21 PM
43	Depends on experience and level of responsibility.	12/4/2017 3:12 PM
44	$25+	12/4/2017 3:10 PM
45	Starting wage $20.00	12/4/2017 2:59 PM
146	At least $25	12/4/2017 2:52 PM
147	24-30/hr depending on position/geographical location/training and experience	12/4/2017 2:50 PM
148	Should be based on level of experience and how well you do your job. Ive been a full time tech at the same clinic for over 11 years and get paid $25/hr which is decent but i feel $30/hr reflects more on my abilities and value as a long term employee	12/4/2017 2:38 PM
149	Depends on place of work. $20 to start. $30 for very busy clinics and someone in the field for 10 years.	12/4/2017 2:27 PM
150	$20/$22+ Cost of living is insanely high in B.C.	12/4/2017 2:16 PM
151	$23 and up	12/4/2017 2:06 PM
152	Tricky question! We live in a very expensive provinceour current wage allows me to pay my share of the rent, bills, and living expenses with minimal left over for extras or any kind of savings/RRSPs. I would love to see an increase but understand that this is not an overly lucrative career field and would never want to see it become more corporate in values to increase wage. I think there are lots of perks that can be fit into our job that would help with an inability to increase wages.	12/4/2017 2:01 PM
153	$20-$30 depending on experience	12/4/2017 1:56 PM
154	$20/hour	12/4/2017 1:51 PM
155	We should be making the same as registered nurses. I think we need a living wage, starting new grads at 23$ and up based on experience.	12/4/2017 1:50 PM
156	$18-30/hr	12/4/2017 1:49 PM
157	depends on experience	12/4/2017 1:46 PM
158	Depends on where they are living 20-35$	12/4/2017 1:42 PM
159	in today's climate minimum 25 to start that's enough to survive	12/4/2017 1:37 PM

10		5
160	22	12/4/2017 1:29 PM
161	20 - 30 per hour	12/4/2017 1:27 PM
162	25-35	12/4/2017 1:26 PM
163	25$/hr	12/4/2017 1:20 PM
164	Really location dependent but $20 to start for fresh out of school tech, lots of work and training that went into our title	12/4/2017 1:18 PM
165	Min start @ $20, experienced $25-35, good holidays and some benefits (CE, etc) listed above	12/4/2017 1:15 PM
166	$25-$30	12/4/2017 1:10 PM
167	25 and up	12/4/2017 1:03 PM
168	At least $20/hour	12/4/2017 1:02 PM
169	$20 plus per hour should be minimum	12/4/2017 12:42 PM
170	$20-$25	12/4/2017 12:41 PM
171	Over 22/ hr. When you think what a nurse makes and they are usually specializing in a field, a tech does ot all with no pension and significant wage difference	12/4/2017 12:41 PM
172	This depends on the services that the tech provides. If they are used only as a helper then less than if they run the clinic	12/4/2017 12:35 PM
173	30$/ hour I make 25$ after 13 years. I did however take 2, year long mat leaves	12/4/2017 12:34 PM
174	Starting wages 20, senior tech's /head tech's 30-35	12/4/2017 12:32 PM
175	Depends on small,large or emerg , nights etc but probably $22-$27 /hr	12/4/2017 12:27 PM
176	Family practice or RVT $25. Specialized tech $35/hr	12/4/2017 12:20 PM
177	23	12/4/2017 12:15 PM
178	Between 28 to35/hr	12/4/2017 12:15 PM
179	I think there should be a range, due to experience and facility. $20/hour for new grads, with healthy raises if hard worker, etc. For experienced tech, $25 for general practice to start, $30 for EC practice to start, again with appropriate raises	12/4/2017 12:11 PM
180	$20 +	12/4/2017 12:10 PM
181	>$25 an hour plus good benefits.	12/4/2017 12:07 PM
182	$25-30/hr	12/4/2017 12:00 PM
183	$25-28	12/4/2017 11:59 AM
184	$30/Hour	12/4/2017 11:53 AM
185	$20-$30/hr	12/4/2017 11:51 AM
186	I currently make almost $60/hr and believe it is very fair.	12/4/2017 11:29 AM
187	20-25/hr	12/4/2017 11:27 AM
188	25-35/ hour depending on experience	12/4/2017 11:20 AM
189	25+ per hour depending on experience and competency	12/4/2017 11:17 AM
190	At least $25/hr	12/4/2017 11:16 AM
191	Based on the extensive skill set required, the cost of schooling etc, I believe somewhere in the $30-35/hr would make people feel more financially compensated.	12/4/2017 11:13 AM
192	25 to 30	12/4/2017 11:12 AM
		12/4/2017 11:09 AM
193	$15 to start, upwards from there based on experience and training
193 194	$15 to start, upwards from there based on experience and training Depends on where you live to some degree. Honestly it should be over 25 a hour. If the industry wants to retain long term technicians it need to have more increases with experience. At least 30 plus for techs with lots of experience.	12/4/2017 11:05 AM

196	I know we don't get a lot of money. I was at $22 after 12 years of experience. It would be nice to be able to earn a living wage, especially since lots of us have family's and our wage doesn't support that. $25-$30 would be amazing, but I doubt it will happen.	12/4/2017 11:01 AM
197	For my experience it should be over $30/hour. Just out of school $15/hour then up from there.	12/4/2017 11:00 AM
198	25-30$ an hour	12/4/2017 10:58 AM
